ORDER

September 18, 2018

AND NOW, upon consideration of the Report and Recommendation of United States Magistrate Judge William I. Arbuckle (Doc. 21), recommending that we affirm the final decision of the Commissioner of Social Security denying the Plaintiff's Title II application for disability benefits under the Social Security Act, and noting that the Plaintiff filed objections (Doc. 24) to the report on July 10, 2018 to which the Commissioner has responded,¹ and the Court finding Judge Arbuckle's analysis to be thorough, well-reasoned, and fully supported by the

¹ Where objections to a magistrate judge's report and recommendation are filed, the court must perform a de novo review of the contested portions of the report. *Supinski v. ² Plaintiff's submission contains no arguments that cause us to depart from the Magistrate Judge's appropriate reasoning and correct conclusions. Here, the ALJ's decision to deny Plaintiff's application for benefits is supported by substantial evidence. The arguments raised in the Plaintiff's objections have been, as pointed out by the Commissioner, previously raised and were considered by the Magistrate Judge in his thorough report and recommendation.
